My personal style: Keeping it simple and comfortable is of the utmost importance to me

Power Dressing: It completely depends on your corporate environment. Around the world corporate environments are moving from a much formal to a smart casual mode. I have the advantage of being my own boss thus setting my own trends.

In the summer, it's cottons, cottons, cottons - heat and I am not the best of friends

In better weather conditions it varies from denims, kurtas and jackets. I sometimes tweak my attire according to the type of meetings as well.

Three wardrobe essentials: It's hard for a person in my industry to limit it to three; but I don't travel without the following, so I would consider them essential:

White shirt

Black trousers

Pair of high heels (usually beige or black in colour)

Style mantra: Keep it simple. Keep it fun. Keep it comfortable. Play with colors. Try and use organic fabrics.

Favorite labels: There are too many talented and inspirational people across the globe to choose from but my biggest weakness is anything that is hand crafted or hand embroidered.
